December 3, 2017

The 2017 Caltrain Holiday Train pulls into the San Mateo Station. The Holiday Train is more than a glittering feast for the eyes. It is also an opportunity to donate new toys or books to disadvantaged, local children. Caltrain partners with the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve Toys for Tots program and the Salvation Army's Season of Giving program to help make the season brighter for families.

2017-SOC-43430: Cal OES Individual Assistance (IA) Branch requested two (2) IA Coordinators in support of the 2017 October Statewide Fire Recovery efforts.

- Two (2) IA Coordinators from the State of Washington will provide support in a Joint Field Office, Local Assistance Center, or in the field as needed.
- Both IA Coordinators are scheduled to provide support from 11/27/17 – 12/23/17.

October 2017 Wildfires Consolidated Debris Removal Program

The consolidated debris removal program designed to help survivors of the October 2017 wildfires was developed by Cal OES and FEMA to ensure clean-up occurs to common standards, accounting for worker and environmental safety, and facilitates faster rebuilding.

- Just one month into the second phase of the program, Cal Recycle, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and their contractors have removed fire debris from 1209 properties. The first phase that focused on removal of household hazardous waste also nears total completion.
- Cal Recycle is coordinating the second phase of debris removal operations in Butte, Nevada and Yuba counties and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers supports efforts in Lake, Mendocino, Napa and Sonoma counties.
- The program is on track to ensure all fire debris is safely removed by early 2018. In all counties, more than 300,000 tons of fire debris have been removed.

WEATHER OF CONCERN

Weather of Concern

- Hazardous travel in the mountains this morning above 5,000 feet (starting around Blue Canyon). Snow will end later this morning with total snow accumulations of 2" to 6". Expect chain controls and travel delays if headed up into the mountains this morning. Snow will decrease later this morning.

Active Weather Warnings, Watches and Advisories by County:

- <https://alerts-v2.weather.gov/counties/CA>

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

Sunday afternoon a dry NW-NE surface wind pattern will develop. Northerly winds may gust to 25-35 mph in wind-prone locations Monday morning from the western Sierra slopes to the coastal mountains. Dry conditions with mainly night and morning N-NE winds and a gradual warming trend can then be expected for the next week or so.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

A weak low pressure west of the Baja Peninsula will continue to direct high cloudiness into the region. This, along with increasing onshore gradients, will lead to a bit cooler weather this weekend. Tomorrow, highs will be in the 50s in the mountains to the upper 60s to lower 70s across valley areas of the region. Dense fog can be expected during the overnight hours across the San Joaquin Valley the next 3 nights. Local west winds of 15-25 mph will be possible during the afternoon hours in the desert through tomorrow. Similar northwesterly winds will be possible along the central coast. Early next week, a trough will head into the Great Basin which will cause north winds to increase Monday. Some gusts to 40 mph will be possible Monday and Monday night across the I-5 Corridor and portions of Santa Barbara County. These winds will turn northeasterly Tuesday, setting the stage for a dry, windy and warm pattern for the region. At this time, the strongest winds look to occur Tuesday through Thursday, with some offshore winds possibly lingering into the following weekend. A moderate offshore pressure gradient along with some upper level support may allow this offshore wind event to be stronger than the previous two which occurred recently. Temperatures next week will rise into the 80s in the region west of the mountains with minimum relative humidity (RH) dipping into the single digits. Poor RH recovery can be expected next week. No rain is expected.
